

PARENT TEACHER ASSOCIATION
BAL BHARATI PUBLIC SCHOOL, DWARKA

Ref No.BBPS/DW/2010/C-17/291

February 22, 2010

Dear Parent,

We, at BBPS Dwarka, have always believed that a healthy and close communion between the parent and the school, which is the 'second home' for the children is imperative. The school and the parent community together constitute the Bal Bharati Parivar.

The PTA Executive Body has been playing a pivotal role in this direction and has joined hands with the school to organize "Cultural Evening" on April 3, 2010 (Saturday), 5:30 pm onwards thereby providing a forum to build and strengthen the bond between parent and teachers through better interaction.

In an effort to skip the formal setup as well as facilitate larger participation, this time, we wish to sprinkle more color to the event by way of including "DANDIYA" dance feature in association with an artist of repute to add sheen to the evening. Apart from this, there would be "Lucky Draw". Also "Best Dancing Couple" & "Best Dressed Couple" and many more shall be rewarded.

Keeping in mind the excitement that this fun filled evening promises, parent/guardians may note the following points :

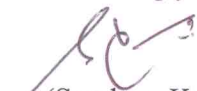

- 1.The invitation is extended only to the parent/guardians (children are not allowed). Parent/Guardian may bring along guests. However, stag entry shall not be allowed for guests.
- 2.Entry Fee for attending the event shall be Rs.50/- per person.
- 3.Dress Code for the evening shall be Indian traditional attire. Participants may bring their own Dandiya Stick. However, this will also be available during the show on a nominal rent.
- 4.Though complimentary tea/coffee/cold drink shall be served, stalls for snacks and dinner from reputed Brands shall be available, delicacies from where may be relished on payment.

Those interested may send the cash to the class-teacher by 23rd March 2010 and collect the receipts.

PS : Kindly bring the cash receipt along with you on 3rd April, 2010 to get your lucky draw coupon.

We promise to make this event etched in the memory of one & all.

Soliciting your unflinching cooperation and support in making this event a grand success.
